

THE PHILADELPHIA RING.

Investigations are progressing in Philadelphia, and rottenness, rank and loud smelling is developed in every department of the Government. Glaring abuses have been discovered everywhere, but especially in the collection of delinquent mercantile taxes, showing that Treasurer Bardsley was not the only official who has been plundering the taxpayers. The ring was bold and shrewd, and its ramifications extensive. Last year nearly seven thousand suits were brought for delinquent taxes before Magistrates at a cost of $31,194. These suits resulted in securing only two hundred and forty-nine cases, and the collection of $2,725. The taxpayers lost $28,467 on these suits, the costs exceeding the collections to that amount. In addition, 10,367 names were stricken from the tax list by the appraisers after they had been paid 62½ cents per name for classifying them, and had paid $1 50 per name for advertising them. It is found that many of the exemptions were made for political reasons, and that the State was robbed of $60,000 by this little job alone in the last year.

Now the cashier of the Keystone National Bank, against which Bardsley held fourteen due bills for $925,000 of the public funds, which he claimed to have deposited in that bank, swears that but six of those due bills are legitimate, and that they represent only $325,000, which was the actual amount deposited by Bardsley, the bills for the other $600,000 being fraudulent, not one cent having been deposited in the bank for them.

The ring, it appears, was all powerful in the City of Brotherly Love, and extended its operations to the State Treasury. The Government is as corrupt as that of New York City when Boss Tweed controlled it, or that of Washington in the palmiest days of the Boss Shepherd regime, and discounts San Francisco when that city was under the joint rule of Buckley and the late lamented Boss Higgins.

NOT WELL INFORMED.

The Gazette ought to inform (post) itself on the silver and Chinese questions, as it displays almost unpardonable ignorance in discussing both. Last evening it said:

"The present administration seems to be doing its best to exclude Chinese immigration by enforcing the law. The present administration has been the only one which has seemed desirous of excluding the Chinese."

The Gazette ought to know, what every school boy, especially on the Pacific Coast, doubtless does, that the law which it credits the present administration with enforcing, that is the Chinese Exclusion Act, was passed by a Democratic Congress and signed by the only Democratic President we have had since "before the war."

Secretary Blaine, who was pictured in "Judge," Young Harrison's paper, as a negro thief trying to steal the Presidential nomination from a coon on which was a padlock bearing the inscription "Harrison," and who has since been represented by several Harrison papers as being hopelessly ill with Bright's disease, is said to be showing much improvement in health. A Bar Harbor dispatch says he takes long walks and is steadily gaining strength.

A dispatch from Orange, Texas, says a fight took place at Lockmore & Co's yard at Lake Charles, Louisiana, between "Red Bones" and "whites," in which sixteen men were wounded. Officers and physicians who started to the scene of the riot were waylaid and murdered. Another report says the fight was between a band of robbers known as the "Ashworth gang" and cattlemen. No reliable reports of the affair are attainable.

Melbourne, the Ohio rain maker, wants the United States Government to pay him $1,000,000 for his rain-making machine, which, he says, is cheap at that price. He says the machine which he uses is not larger than a common stove, and that the rain is produced by the liberation of gas generated from chemicals. He says he can transform deserts in lakes by means of his invention.

Mrs. George Roberts, a spiritualist of San Jose, has converted the parlors of her residence into what she terms "The Temple of Purity and Truth." The furniture and every article of the temple are pure white, and no one will be allowed to enter unless clad in robes of the same color. The temple is for angels to come and hold communion with man.

The California Legislature passed an Act placing a fixed value of $5 on every coyote scalp. Mr. Reed's Billion Dollar Congress, by a strict party vote, refused to do as much for silver as the California Legislature did for coyote scalps.

THE GRAND ARMY.

The Grandest Parade in the History of the Organization.

Special to the Journal.

DETROIT, August 4.—This has been a proud day in the history of the G. A. R. It has witnessed the grandest parade in the history of the organization, and has made the twenty-fifth or "silver encampment" an occasion of magnificence and grandeur, surpassing the fondest dreams cherished by its humble founder, Dr. Stephenson of Illinois, twenty-five years ago. For six hours to-day, under a bright sun, 40,000 veterans tramped sturdily over the line of march, and such was the inspiration of the moment that even the feeblest of the maimed and crippled comrades found themselves adequate to the ordeal of the march. The firing of a salute from the U. S. steamer Michigan in the harbor announced to the waiting veterans at 10:30 that the command to move had been given by the Commander-in-Chief. When General Veazy appeared before the reviewing stand, a vast concourse of people clustered about the campus martius and cheered themselves hoarse. Besides the staff of the Commander-in-Chief there were on the reviewing stand Secretary of War Proctor, Secretary of the Navy Tracy, General Miles, Assistant Secretary of the Interior Bussey, two or three Governors and half a dozen Past Commanders-in-Chief.

An ex-President marching in the ranks is so unusual, that the tremendous ovation tendered ex-President Hayes to-day was hardly a surprise. The cheers which swept along the line of march like a huge but slowly rising tidal wave, was ever an indication of the presence of the distinguished ex-President. Mr. Hayes was recognized by all as he marched with his Post.

Ex-President Hayes, accompanied by the committee which purchased the $1,000 badge for Commander-in-Chief Veazy, called at headquarters to-day and presented General Veazy with the badge.

Suspicious of Foul Play.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—Chief of Police Crowley has detailed Detective Rogers to investigate the case of John E. Dixon, the stock broker whose remains were found on the beach below the Cliff House Sunday, and who it was supposed drowned himself while despondent because of financial reverses. Some of his friends now state that he was possessed of a considerable sum in checks and coin when last seen and express the opinion that his death was the result of foul play.

LATER.—Police Surgeon Williams to-day held an autopsy on the remains of John E. Dixon, the stock broker who was found dead on the beach. He found that his death was due to submersion, and that the wounds on the body had been inflicted after death. The theory of murder has been abandoned by the police, who declare that Dixon committed suicide.

Shooting Affray at Oakland.

Special to the Journal.

OAKLAND, August 4.—Howell, who shot Calvin, was seen at the Oakland jail this morning, but refused to say anything in regard to the immediate circumstances relative to the shooting, although he stated the affair was the outcome of Calvin's persecution of his daughter for years. In response to inquiry Howell said he had heard that Calvin had been to Napa and other places to hunt up his (Howell's) record, but refused to say whether Calvin had attempted blackmail. The meeting last night, he said, was not prearranged. Many friends of Howell visited him in the jail during the day. He is stated to be a brother-in-law of J. S. Clarkon, Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Eiffel Will Make a Proposition to Build a Tower at the World's Fair.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, August 4.—President Baker of the World's Columbian Exposition Directory received a cablegram to-day from M. Eiffel, architect of the Eiffel tower, saying he would like to make a proposition for building a tower on the World's Fair grounds. Baker replied that the management would be glad to receive such a proposition.

A Radical Republican Joins the Farmers Special to the Journal.

KANSAS CITY, August 4.—A Topeka, Kansas, special says: A letter from Harrison Kelly, ex-Congressman from this district, in which he renounces the Republican party and declares that in the future he will be found fighting with Peffer, Polk and Simpson, has created much talk in political circles.

Kelly says he has turned to the new party, the People's party, as the best medium through which to accomplish the reforms demanded by the people.

The Utah Election.

Special to the Journal.

SALT LAKE, August 4.—Full returns of the election yesterday show the Liberals have twelve members of the Legislature, one-third of the whole; a large gain over any previous Legislature. The Liberals elect three members of the Council, six of the House in this city, by a plurality of 1,100. The Liberals elect County Collector, two Selectmen and County Superintendent by a plurality of from 600 to 3,000.

Does Not Pay Its Employees.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, August 4.—The employees of the Oregon Pacific railroad have not been paid for six months, and now threaten that if they cannot secure the money due them, they will quit work and tie up the road. The road is more than paying expenses and the employees expect to obtain an order from the court appointing a receiver who shall apply the earnings of the road to pay the men's wages.

The Burglar Stole a Kiss.

The house of Thomas Owens, a well to do farmer at Valley station, was entered Friday night by a masked burglar, who secured about thirty dollars in money and several articles of clothing. The door of the family bedroom had not been locked, and the burglar entered without difficulty. He carried a dark lantern.

In leaving the room he looked at the sleeping ones, and saw the innocent face of Mr. Owens' little daughter. He suddenly bent over and kissed her on the cheek. She awoke and uttered a loud scream. This aroused her father, who, springing up, spied the burglar. He was not quick enough, however, and was knocked senseless by a powerful blow on the head with the lantern the burglar carried.—Louisville Commercial.

Kilkenny Cats

During the rebellion which occurred in Ireland in 1798, or it may be in 1803, Kilkenny was garrisoned by a troop of Hessian soldiers who amused themselves in barracks by tying two cats together by their tails and throwing them across a clothes line to fight. The officers, hearing of this cruel practice, resolved to stop it. As he entered the room one of the troopers, seizing a sword, cut the tails in two as the animals hung across the line. The two cats escaped, minus their tails, through the open window, and when the officer inquired the meaning of the two bleeding tails being left in the room, he was coolly told that two cats had been fighting and had devoured each other all but the tails.—Notes and Queries.

She Had Read About It.

The trombone player was fitting a mouthpiece to his instrument with a good deal of care, and a young woman was heard to ask, "Mamma, what can that man be doing?" "I don't know, my dear," answered the mother, as she leveled her glass upon the musician in question, "unless he is winding his horn. You often read of players doing that, you know."—Boston Post.

Freaks of Paralysis.

Simon Gornley, of Crab Orchard, Ky., was two years ago smitten with paralysis. He regained his physical health, but was unable to speak a word. A few days ago, while watching a game of ball, he received another stroke, which threw him into violent convulsions. He was put to bed, and the next day astonished everybody by sitting up and talking. He has regained his voice, but has lost his recollection of all events during the past two years. It is believed he will recover.—Exchange.

Advice to Women.

A good piece of advice floating about now in the magazine world is: "If you wish to be agreeable in society, you must be content to be taught many things which you know already." It might be well to add that you must be more interested in other people's good stories than in your own, in their afflictions than in yours, and be careful not to far outdo them in dress or entertainment, and if you are a woman don't be too pretty.—Exchange.

Human Remains in a Silver Vein.

A report comes from Leadville of the discovery of an arrow head, made of tempered copper, and of a number of human bones in the Rocky Point mines, near Gilman, Colo. The relics were disclosed 400 feet beneath the surface of the earth, imbedded in a vein of silver bearing ore. More than one hundred dollars' worth of ore clung to the bones when they were removed from the mine. Here is a puzzle for the geologists.

AT REST.

Poor girl! Fold her hands, cross her feet, Leave her to her slumber sweet. She hath earned it well. Every day for many years Cause had she for bitter tears, And they daily fell.

See the hollows in her cheek, Marks of woe she could not speak; See her sunken eye. Worn and wasted is her frame, None too soon her slumber came; Touch her tenderly.

Hard as iron was her fate; Life for her was desolate, Full of yearning, pain, Sympathy and loving care Fell not to poor Mary's share, Wake her not again.

All she trusted faithless proved, Every creature that she loved, Shortly changed, or died. Good it is for her to rest, Seldom, sure, was human breast More severely tried.

Often has she slept before, Dreaming woe was hers no more, Life and sorrow past; But from such delusive sleep Ever more she woke to weep— Peace is hers at last.

Poor girl! True and tender hearted one; Hard it was that death alone Comfort had for her. Fold her hands, cross her feet, Lay her, robed all white and sweet, In the sepulchral urn.

Augusta Moore in New York Mail and Express.

Thought He Knew Every One.

Tom Fletcher had the good fortune to be born in County Kildare, Ireland, and to emigrate to New York at ten years of age. At twenty-five he had attained a six foot physique, a big black beard and a clerkship in "uptown postoffice station Q."

Looking through the little brass bars of the general delivery one day he saw approaching Mr. Barney McGuffin, a fine old Irish gentleman he had known in boyhood. The old man was unchanged, but the boy had outgrown Mr. McGuffin's remembrance.

"I dunno, is it too late fur t' stamer th' day?" said the old man as he poked a letter through the bars for "The Widow O'Brien, Carragh of Kildare, Kildare county, Ireland."

"An' is this to be Widde O'Brien that lives on d' Ballywink road?" said Tom in his best brogue.

"An' how the divil did you know she lived on d' Ballywink road?"

"That would Oi be doin' in de post orfus as Oi didn't know the Widde O'Brien lived on d' Ballywink road? Git away from d' windy now; you've had y'r toime."

And the old man was frequently seen to stop on the sidewalk and gaze with awe and wonder at the man "what knowed iverybody in Oireland."—Dry Goods Chronicle.

The Poet Riley and Mrs. Wilcox.

"Can you recall more than a single instance of a man of letters marrying a literary wife?" asked a Chicago writer the other day. "Browning? Yes. I know another instance which comes pretty near it. I do not think the fact is generally known, but James Whitcomb Riley, in the earlier days of his literary career, was a most ardent admirer of Ella Wheeler, the poetess of passion, and a favored suitor for her hand."

"Both the young people were poor, however, and neither had attained a national reputation at that time, although both had written some very charming specimens of verse. I do not know whether Ella ever intended to marry the young Hoosier poet or not, but I do know that young Riley was nearly heartbroken when their cordial relations were sundered."—Chicago Mail.

High Sheriff Benjamin Disraeli.

An Irish antiquarian has discovered that the "Benjamin D'Israeli, Esq.," who was high sheriff of the county of Carlow in 1810 was an uncle of Lord Beaconsfield. He is buried in St. Peter's church, Dublin, having died in 1814, aged forty-eight. This Benjamin, of whom none of the writers on Lord Beaconsfield appears to have known anything whatever, left a large fortune, and his will, which is preserved in the Dublin record office, is signed "Benjamin D'Israeli." Lord Beaconsfield once wrote asking for a copy of his uncle's will, but neither his name nor his father's appears in the document. Benjamin D'Israeli the elder was only the half brother of the author of the "Curiosities of Literature."

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses of Hood's Sarsaparilla require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "goodname at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, has never attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. The Pioche Record says: "The Dagway excitement, urged so forcibly by the Salt Lake papers only a few weeks ago, has dwindled to such a point that the line of stage running there from Stockton has been discontinued entirely, and we now hear little of the place. So it is with every boom that hasn't anything substantial to justify it."

A Carson Mint Drop.

A young man who thought because he was an employee of the Carson Mint he could do as he pleased in San Francisco, was seen running through the streets of that city in Georgia Summer costume, chasing a nymph whom he accused of larceny, and shouting: "I did not come all the way from Carson to be played for a snicker." Judge Rix thought differently, and the "mint drop" left the court-room declaring "that as an employee of Uncle Sam he did not have a fair deal."

Somewhat Contradictory.

The Pioche record of last Thursday has these weather items:

"Over two inches of rain has fallen the past two weeks, which place the cattle ranges in fine condition, but has played havoc with the hay and potato crops."

"The heavy showers we have had for the past few days are causing a beautiful smile to ornament the countenances of our ranchers."

JULY WEATHER REPORT.

Temperature and Rain Fall on the Pacific Coast.

The weather review for July for the Division of the Pacific, Lieutenant John P. Finley in charge, says:

The month of July has been distinguished by excessively high temperatures, local storms, high winds and early rains. All cyclonic disturbances, that is their centers, have moved eastward over British Columbia, beyond the limit of the Weather Bureau Charts. In two instances the centers came sufficiently far south to give rise to light rains in Northern California. These disturbances passed over British Columbia on the 7th and 8th, and on the 24th and 25th. This last disturbance moved eastward with extreme slowness, remaining in the vicinity of the Pacific Coast States from the 20th to the 30. Its easterly movement was delayed by the presence of a very decided area of high barometric pressure, central in the vicinity of Montana for several days. This high pressure area gave rise to the hot wave in Oregon and Washington on the 22nd and 23rd, and as it moved further southward it developed the hot wave in Southern California on the 24th and 25th.

RAINFALL.

The monthly precipitation has been decidedly above the average in Eastern and Southern Oregon, and considerable above in Northern Nevada and Northwestern California. A marked deficiency has occurred in Western Washington, Northwestern Oregon, Southeastern California, and Arizona. The excess ranges from 0.08 inches at San Francisco to 1.63 inches at Baker City and 0.80 inches at Walla Walla. The deficiency ranges from 0.01 inch at San Diego to 1.02 inches at Fort Canby and 2.17 inches at Fort Grant. The heavy rains in Oregon and Eastern Washington on the 9th and 10th were due to the combination of two cyclonic disturbances and their low latitude. Rain fell on eleven days in California; on 13 days in Arizona; on 9 days in Nevada; on 22 days in Oregon; on 22 days in Washington. The greatest rainfall in 24 hours occurred in Baker City, Or., on the 10th, 1.16 inches; at Fort Grant 0.82 inches on the 16th; at Roseburg 0.30 inches 9th.

TEMPERATURE.

The month of July has been abnormally warm in all districts, even at the coast stations with one or two exceptions. It has been decidedly above the normal in California, especially in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys, and in the southwest portion of the State. The excess ranges from 1 to 3 degrees in Oregon and Washington, to 3 to 6 degrees in California. A deficiency of 1 degree occurred at Fort Canby, and of 3 degrees at Fort Grant, Arizona. At Eureka, Cal., the temperature remained normal. The highest temperatures occurred as follows: Fresno 114 deg.; Yuma, 125, 14, 24 deg.; Red Bluff, 112 1 deg.; Los Angeles, 108 25 deg.; Portland, Roseburg and Walla Walla, 102 23 deg.; Indio, 124 23; Mammoth Tank, 124 34 deg.; Coltonwood, 115 4 deg. Several fatal cases of sunstroke were reported from towns in the central and southern portion of California.

A Lively Camp.

The Alturas Herald, published in Modoc county, California, says:

"Sunday was a lively day. It was almost impossible to hear the church bell ring for the laughter and shouting of hay-seed bucaros and Indians, the yelping of the latter's countless dogs, the screeching and growling of the wild animals at Hanson's menagerie, the band playing, several of our prominent citizens promading the streets and whistling, and the clink of the $20 gold pieces at the gaming tables. The days of Sodom and Gomorah are surely upon us—yes, verily!"

And Why Not Carson?

The business men of Reno have subscribed a purse of $1,500 for a stake race during the State Fair for runners, 1 1/2 miles. Commenting on this the Carson Tribune says: "Now if the Carson business men would subscribe a purse of say $750 for a like race during the Carson Fair the two races would bring the crack runners from Palo Alto, San Mateo and other California stables. Such a race would attract the largest crowd ever seen on a Nevada track and thousands of dollars would go into the pool-box."

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

A DOG THAT GOT A PRIZE

HE WASN'T ENTERED IN THE SHOW,
BUT WAS GIVEN AN AWARD.

He Was a Homely Brindle Cur of the Streets and He Saved His Little Gam-
in from a Watery Death—The Faithful Dog Receives Due Credit.

There was a bench show of dogs in the Central rink, and all the pugs, and terriers, and mastiffs, and St. Bernards, and bulldogs, and all the other high bred dogs who were sure to what class they belonged and whose owner could prove their right to be so classed were there.
People were coming and going, and the papers had been full of descriptions of the affair, illustrated by wood cuts of some of the finest animals.

Over on another street of the same city was quite a different scene. In a narrow court near the river lay a shivering, white faced little shaver, whose clothes dripped water. Over him bent another boy with a quart of steaming hot liquid
in his hand.

"Drink 'this here hot coffee, Jim," he said. "Bill's gone for to hunt up some dry duds, and maybe we can get yer inter that engine room ter dry. Don't yer go ter gettin' faint nor nothin' now. Want yer head raised a bit?"

But the boy raised himself on his elbow and looked around him. He took a drink of the coffee, and seeming to get strength
said:

"Where's Buster?"

"Oh, he's around somewhere. Buster's all right. There comes the boys with the duds, and we'll have you all right, too, in a minute. Don't feel dizzy or nothin', do yer?"

"I'm beginning to feel first rate again.
Where's Buster? Some of you whistle;
I ain't got the wind."

But at that moment a bobtailed brindle dog came around the corner, closely pursued by a couple of boys.

"Let Buster alone! What are you chasing Buster for?" demanded the prostrate boy.

"Why, yer see," explained the others still keeping up the chase, "there was a man said if we could get him around to the dog show they'd give him a prize for pulling you out of the river, and he won't let us catch him."

LOOKING FOR A PRIZE.

"Wot sort of a prize is it?" demanded
the wet boy.

"Money, you woodenhead, you. They're all swells down there, and he said there's a prize for the best dog that saves a feller's life."

This was enough to satisfy the inq-ueries of the smaller boy, and to excite the best efforts of the others to capture the dog, but for some reasons he eluded them. Perhaps he had good reasons for being suspicious of boys who were too friendly. Anyway, he dodged and kept out of their way, almost causing one of them to be crushed under the wheels of a cable car, when the wet boy gave a low whistle and ordered the dog to "come ere."

The animal obeyed without a whine.
"Now lay down!" The dog got down and put his nose between his paws. "You've got to go and get that there prize, and I'm going too."

It was doubtful at first if the boy would be able to keep his word, but by the help of the others, who had taken off his wet clothing and wrapped him up in something dry, he managed to go.

When he saw his master going the dog followed, and they soon stood before the bulletin board in front of the rink, announcing the bench show and the terms of admittance.

There was some consultation, and then while four of them stayed with the boy who had been in the water, one of the largest took the dog by the strap around his neck, and, paying the admittance fee with the combined wealth of the company, undertook to drag the dog in with him.

"Here! leave that dog outside," commanded the doorkeeper. "You can't take that dog in with you, I say."

"What's the reason? Ain't I taking him in to get the prize?"

"What prize? There is no prize for such curs as that. Turn him out, I tell you."

A PRIZE WAS GIVEN.

"Yes, there is a prize. Wot are you givin' us? Didn't a man tell me so? He ain't going to eat up none of your fine haired pups, but he's goin' to get that prize."

There might have been a fracas and an arrest, for the boy who had paid his money was positive and determined, but just then a gentleman chanced to step to the door and asked what was the matter.

"Oh, he's got a fool notion about a prize for brindle pups," explained the gatekeeper, "and is making a fuss about his dog going in."

"There isn't such a prize offered, I am positive," said the man "I am one of the judges."

"What sort of a show is this here, then?"

"A dog show, of course."

"And no prize for the best dog?"

"It is for a certain kind of dogs—those that cost a great deal of money."

"And not for the kind that jumps into the ice and drags a boy outen the river?"

"Did your dog do that?"

"Yes; and that there's the boy he did it to."

The gentleman looked incredulous, but just then a newspaper reporter who had been watching the boys from the street stepped up and corroborated the statement.

"Wait here a minute," said the gentleman; and he disappeared within and went briskly to where a group of his friends were talking. In a minute he came back with something in his hand,
and followed by several others.

"We have decided," he said, "that there ought to be a prize for that kind of a dog, and here is a five dollar gold piece for the owner of the dog," and at the same time he stepped forward and tied a knot of blue ribbon to the strap around the dog's neck.

A prouder lot of boys were never seen than those street waifs as they led the dog away.—Our Dumb Animals.
